

Metrology for the industrial sector.

Steelceram gauges are made of technical ceramics, and are used to measure tools. They're perfect for the industrial sector, in applications where high durability is needed. It's required for many measurement cycles, high hardness and high accuracy.

